

Center for FaithJustice NeXt Level 2021 COVID-19 Update

As we prepare for the 2021 summer season, our team at the Center for FaithJustice is mindful of the challenges that we will be facing in these uncertain times. We want to reiterate that safety has been and will remain our top priority! We will not host programs unless it is safe to do so for our participants, volunteers, staff, along with our host sites and those they serve.

Based on what we know and from CDC recommendations we will implement the following safety measures for all planned programs:

- Masks will be mandatory at all times unless engaging in an activity that requires otherwise (sleeping, eating, showering, etc.)
 - Neck gaiters are not allowed
- Daily temperature checks for both staff and students
- Consistent hand washing and sanitizing of shared spaces
- Physical distancing as much as possible
- Emphasizing outdoor time, weather permitting, for large group activities, eating, and community time
- All students on overnight programs will be required to submit either a negative COVID test no earlier than 5 days prior to program arrival, proof of vaccination, or a doctor's note clearing them from a previous COVID infection within the last 90 days

These are discussed below in greater detail along with some "Frequently Asked Questions."

As always, we will ask for parent cooperation in this process. If your child is sick, experiencing COVID symptoms, or has come in contact with someone who has COVID prior to a scheduled program, please refrain from sending them. We will work with you to find an alternative for them to participate. It is in the best interest of all involved that we protect ourselves and one another. Thank you!

What protocols will be in place?

Based on guidance from the CDC and the American Camp Association, we will be reducing the volume of participants in our rooms and on our programs overall, require daily temperature checks and mask-wearing, and eating outside as much as possible. Participants will be asked to wash hands for 20 seconds frequently and maintain physical distancing when possible.

How will you handle sleeping arrangements?

Since rescheduled programs have smaller amounts of students, we are confident that we will be able to ensure proper distancing during the day and ample distancing at night. On Level Up, we will place students in rooms with 1-2 other students. The cots will be spread out at least 6 feet apart.

If you have any specific questions about rooming, please email Susan Oldroyd (soldroyd@faithjustice.org)

What happens if a student gets sick?

If while on our program, a student has a fever or another symptom of COVID-19, they will be asked to quarantine immediately in a separate and designated space. The student will be asked a series of questions to identify if they have two or more symptoms of COVID-19. The parent will be notified immediately.

If sick, we will ask that parents pick up the child and have them tested as soon as possible. In this way, we will know whether we need to quarantine the other participants.
